President's Message

By: Jamey T. Pregon
2020 OACTA President

What a difference a year makes. One year ago, we were all emerging from another winter, and starting to enjoy another spring. We were looking forward to spring break and summer vacations, and getting outside with warmer weather arriving. We were on the run with our kids and families, going to events and graduation parties. We were getting out with our family and friends, going out to dinner, movies, ballgames, and shopping. We were gathering together in places of worship. We were working. We were in trials, depositions, mediations, and meeting with clients. We all had plenty of toilet paper. That was 2019.

Today, most of us are sitting at home. We have been for weeks. We will still be sitting at home for weeks to come. Our lives are on hold and uncertain. Businesses not deemed "essential" are closed to the public. Shelves are empty at grocery stores, as our delivery trucks cannot match the overwhelming demand for things like meat, milk, and toilet paper. Stadiums are empty. Churches and places of worship are empty. Much of our social interaction now comes from those who are quarantined with us in our homes, and through Zoom and Skype. We worry about the spread of a virus. We worry about our livelihoods. Courthouses are quiet now. There are no trials. The only mediations or depositions occurring now are through video. Things that we always took for granted are not there for us right now, or in the foreseeable future. This is 2020.

When I was sworn in as President of OACTA last November, everything looked different. OACTA looked different. Everything has now changed during the first quarter of 2020, and will continue changing as 2020 continues to unfold. We are all changing, both personally and professionally. OACTA is changing too.

At its core, OACTA has always been about supporting Ohio's defense community. That will never change. What is changing is how we do that, and what that means in the face of such a challenging year. Our defense community has always faced challenges and uncertainties, such as changing and emerging laws and decisions such as Scott-

Pontzer and Robinson v. Bates. But we have never faced challenges and uncertainties that involve everything, like we are seeing now. This is a time for the defense community to step up and help each other out, and to face the challenges and uncertainties together. OACTA exists for this very reason.

As you know, we have had to postpone our popular insurance coverage seminar, which was to be held in April, and the June personal injury defense seminar will likely suffer the same fate. We are hopeful that OACTA will still be able to yet hold the seminars in person at later dates, and we remain hopeful that events such as our annual golf outing and annual meeting still go forward. But as things continue to unfold, OACTA is adapting. On April 14, we held our first Virtual Town Hall meeting via Zoom Pro, which was well attended and discussed key issues relating to Ohio's emergency COVID-19 legislation. We have more webinars on the way, including the April 23 webinar which will discuss Business Interruption Coverage issues relating to COVID-19. Seminars that may not go forward in person will be converted to webinars, offering CLE credit remotely at a time when few live CLE seminars will be occurring. OACTA continually sends email blasts to members of significant developments, and OACTA members are able to use email blasts to membership to request information and guidance from members. OACTA's website posts court orders, as well as articles and other resources regarding COVID-19.

In 2019, OACTA began its initiative to provide its members CLE seminars on demand. 2020 has pushed this initiative into focus. More webinars and on demand CLE's are in production, and will be coming soon. OACTA's sponsors will be offering webinars in the coming months as well. In a new era where social distancing is going to live on even after businesses start to reopen, webinars and on demand materials will be vital to us all, and OACTA will be here to serve those needs.

Times like these help us all to see what is really important to us. Rather than dwelling on the things we cannot have right now, focus on the things that we do have. We have families. We have friends. We have each other. Things are going to get back to normal again, whatever "normal" will look like when all of this is in our rear view mirrors. We need to be here for each other. I encourage everyone to get involved in our defense community. We need each other more than ever, and this is our moment to rise up together. I thank you all for being a part of our community, and I wish the best for you and your loved ones. Please stay safe and healthy during these times, and know that OACTA will be here for you.

The Scott Fetzer Company v. Zurich American Insurance Company, 769 Fed.Appx. 322 (6th Cir. April 30, 2019)

In late 2013, three women filed a lawsuit against Fetzer, doing business as The Kirby Company, Crantz Development, and John Fields, an independent dealer of vacuum cleaners who worked for Crantz, alleging claims of assault, battery, intentional infliction of emotional distress, and false imprisonment. The circumstances giving rise to the plaintiffs' claims resulted in felony and misdemeanor convictions. Despite the tenuous employment connection between Fetzer and Fields, Fetzer entered into settlement agreements with the three women.
